Love, Jealousy, and Revenge.

At an early hour this morning one of those affairs, mostly occurring between the outer leaves of yellow covered novels, happened on S street, a few doors north of the old dump of the Savage Company. Some time since Mrs. Sarah Eastman applied for a divorce from her husband, O. Eastman, which was granted; but after a season Sarah, wearied of single life, and without the assistance of priest or court, received her husband back again to her bed and embraces. For a time all was well, but frequent conjugal storms agitated the illicit ocean of their love, and divers and sundry quarrels illustrated that solemn assertion that man and woman are "frail," culminated this morning in Mrs. Eastman taking a pistol (a revolver) and deliberately shooting Eastman in the head, at the base of the skull, and a little below the left ear, while he was asleep. The report of the pistol aroused David Meyer, who slept in the house, and who, rushing into the apartment, found Eastman covered with blood, and Mrs. Eastman standing by the bed en deshabille with the pistol in her hand, which she dropped to the floor, and then ensued a scene that could only result from one of two causes—uncontrollable jealousy, or too much whisky. Eastman of course, supposing himself very seriously, if not fatally wounded, desired the immediate attendance of a physician, and Mrs. Eastman, half crazed, protesting she shot him because she loved (?) him, kept Dave busy in forcing her from the room and dressing Eastman, who was removed to the office of Dr. C. C. Green, where the bullet was extracted, it having passed through the outer portion of the scalp and flattened on the skull. The skull is not fractured, apparently, and Dr. Green thinks Eastman will recover, although he is not free from danger. One thing is certain, Eastman's skull is harder than that of many a man, and his escape from instant death is miraculous.

WHAT SHE SAYS.

We visited Mrs. Eastman at the station house this morning, and found her to be a large, good-looking woman, about 33 years of age. She was somewhat excited, and not very communicative, but told us she wanted only simple justice done her, and tacitly acknowledged having shot Eastman. Said that he had abused her during the past years beyond all endurance; that he had beat, pounded and threatened to kill her; that he came home this morning, about 2 o'clock, and quarreled with her; that she was not jealous, but loved the man too well, and did not desire to say anything harsh of him. She assured us she never used liquor to excess, tasting a glass of wine but seldom. While tacitly admitting that she shot Eastman, she proclaimed her innocence, and seemed to think she had done nothing but what was right.

WHAT HE SAYS.

We visited Mr. Eastman, who was lying in bed, and presented the appearance of having bled profusely, the pillows and his underclothes being saturated with blood. He stated that he had been divorced from his wife, Sarah, but, without marriage, had been living with her for several months; that Sarah was a woman of ungovernable temper, and had made it very warm for him on several previous occasions; that, but a few months ago, she ran him across lots and fired a revolver at him four or five times, neither bullet hitting him; that she was in the constant habit of intemperance, as he expressed it: "She drinks like a fish;" that he had quarreled with her yesterday, and that he had left the house; that she sent for him two or three times to come home; that at dark last night he did go home, left, and returned again about two o'clock this morning; that he found her on his return raving drunk, and abused him in unmeasured terms; that she was always jealous of other women; that he went to bed without saying much to her; that she soon after came to bed; that he sunk into a drowse, but was conscious that she had got out of bed, and, that the next thing he knew was the report of a pistol and the consciousness that he had received the bullet in his head; that he thought it served him just about right for ever going near her, and that he thought it would be a good lesson to him if he got well. [A rather severe lesson, we should think.]

The above is an unvarnished statement of the remarks of both Mr. and Mrs. Eastman. The examination of Mrs. Eastman, judicially, will not take place until the result of the wound is determined.—Virginia Trespass, March 6th.

FATAL MINING ACCIDENT.—The Virginia Enterprise, of March 5th, says:

Day before yesterday, about 6 o'clock in the evening, the dead body of John Brown, an employee in the Chollar-Potosi mine, was found in what is known as the old Chollar-Potosi shaft. He started to go to the surface about 3 o'clock in the afternoon, and was not afterwards seen alive. He is supposed to have fallen a distance of 250 feet, or from the first level; the shaft is 480 feet deep. In the compartments in which his dead body was found there was no ladders, and it is thought that he got into it by mistake. Deceased was a native of Ardere, Scotland, was about 35 years of age and unmarried. He formerly lived near Nevada, California.

THE WEATHER ON THE MOUNTAINS.—The Enterprise, of the 5th inst., contains the following dispatches:

Friday's Station, March 5.

The weather is clear, calm and warm. The roads are not open yet, but will be to-morrow. The men are working steady, and have great hopes of stage communication through to-morrow.

Strawberry, March 5.

Three inches of snow fell last night. It is cloudy and very cold. Wind northwest.

THE Helena Gazette, of March 2d, has the following:

Accounts from Eagle creek, a newly discovered district, are of the most flattering character. Some twenty shafts are being sunk in all of which good prospects are obtained. The gulch is about six miles long, and it is confidently believed will pay from one end to the other.

Hendrie's mill cleaned up on last Saturday $4,392 from a six days' run on second-class ore from the Union.

SIXTY-FIVE thousands hogsheads of French wine were consumed last year.

NEW YORK rejoices in seven citizens whose collective wealth is estimated at $150,000,000.

Salt Lake City, November 5, 1866.

On the War Path.

From one end of the country to the other, wherever the public press has spoken on the subject, there seems to be an entire unanimity of opinion that the policy heretofore pursued by the Government relative to the Indians has been not only inefficient, but absolutely suicidal. While the War Department, through its officers, has sought to chastise and hold in check the hostile tribes, the Interior Department, through its agents, has been trying to conciliate the savages by presents, and the distribution of such harmless things as guns and pistols of the latest pattern, and plenty of ammunition.

The prospect of a general Indian war on the plains this summer has aroused the press to the importance of doing something, and changing our ridiculous tactics. Generals Sherman and Grant have unqualifiedly expressed the opinion that, if the old system is to be continued, the troops had better be altogether withdrawn, and let the red man and the Interior Department have full, uninterrupted swing.

The bill before Congress, transferring the whole subject of Indian Affairs to the War Department, meets almost universal support. To the old States, the subject is of little other practical importance than that it affects the interests of their fellow citizens of the new States and Territories; but to the people of the latter it is one of vital moment. But, as in almost every other case of an acknowledged evil, legislators are very apt to be suddenly aroused to the importance of the subject, and disposed to go a little too fast. They require a little restraining. For instance, we notice that a Mr. Tennant has introduced into the Nevada Legislature a set of resolutions proposing a great many things to "meet the emergency." Not content with simply indorsing the Congressional bill to transfer the Indian Bureau to the War Department, and leave the soldiers to deal with the savages, the resolutions ask Congress to withdraw the troops, turn the whole frontier loose, and pay anybody and everybody a certain price for every scalp brought in. The principle (if we may be pardoned for using that term in this connection,) on which the resolutions proceed is, that we should "fight the devil with fire," and that other exploded fallacy that "the end justifies the means."

While we do not profess to have that sentimental regard for "poor Lo!" which has been the great mistake of our Indian policy, or any especial leaning of any kind for him, we have some little regard left for our national reputation and respect for our own boasted civilization. Barbarism is not the less barbaric, because perpetrated by the enlightened and civilized. We never did believe that any wrong could be either excused or justified by proving that somebody else did it. Because Smith in his dealings with us makes a blackguard of himself, does not justify us in acting the blackguard towards him. Not that we respect Smith the less, but ourselves the more. Because the Sioux and Diggers are savages and butchers, is no reason, either logically or morally, why we should become savages and butchers. But, perhaps happily, all mankind don't think alike on any given subject. The scalping resolutions of Mr. Tennant having been referred to a Select Committee of the Nevada Assembly, Mr. Julian reported thereon the other day, as follows:

Your select committee to whom was referred Assembly joint resolution No. 37, after due consideration, report the same back to the House, and unanimously recommend its passage, believing the mode of warfare proposed the only practicable way to thwart the hellish designs of the innumerable bands of hostile Indians who, disregarding their treaties, have for years been murdering and butchering our frontier settlers in a manner known only to the savage. The massacre of nearly an entire company of United States soldiers near Fort Phil. Kearny, a few months ago, was but another proof of the inability of our soldiers to chastise or punish these merciless redskins for such barbarities, and but another failure recorded against the policy of the General Government in her futile efforts to protect the citizen against the savage by waste paper treaties, neither feared nor respected by them; affording another opportunity for the "plumed riders of the desert" to possess themselves of arms and ammunition by which to carry into effect another of their cherished amusements of butchering the white man wherever and whenever opportunity offers; to exult over and convey to other tribes their growing strength, their victory over our troops, and the coming day when they will again be in undisputed possession of the vast domain over which they ruled before the advance of civilization and the attending fruits of industry. The experience of over two centuries on this continent has conclusively proven that the aboriginal races, except when improved by a healthful admixture of Saxon blood, are incapable of becoming civilized, but on the contrary cling unswervingly to all the vices and inhumanities of savage life. The fanciful pen of a Fenimore Cooper may portray in vivid colors the manifold virtues of the red man, and sentimental school girls may give trusting credence to the fiction; but none of your committee have ever been fortunate enough to fall upon a single specimen who would justify the praise so bestowed upon the race. If it be the fact, which we must be excused for doubting, that Indians of such exalted character ever existed in the East, we can unhesitatingly assert from personal knowledge that none such have ever been found west of the Missouri river.

In the parlance of this coast, the committee "can't see it," and can only regret that Congress, the majority of whose members come from districts far removed from the haunts of the savage, have not the same practical, and in some instances sorrowful acquaintance, as the citizens of this State, with the murderous tribes of the Great Basin, respecting no treaties, and simply subscribing to them in order to raise supplies for their next campaign against the unprotected settlers. The only policy which can secure safety to our inhabitants and enable the speedy development of the great resources of the country west of the Rocky Mountains is that of relentless extermination.

We take the liberty of suggesting that the passage of such resolutions, bidding for the scalps of the Indians and authorizing wholesale slaughter, can only have the effect of inducing Congress to let the whole subject alone, and prevent the needed and wholesome action desired. If Western men will ask for too much, they need not be surprised if they continue to get nothing. The scalping resolutions are not only barbarous, but impolitic. The army is neither unable nor unwilling to administer the necessary chastisement to the savages and afford ample protection to our lines of travel.

BY PACIFIC TELEGRAPH.

[SPECIAL TO THE "DAILY UNION VEDETTE."]

Washington, March 11.

In the Senate, Wilson presented a petition from over eight hundred citizens of Alexandria, Va., asking that that city be annexed to the District of Columbia. Referred.

Williams introduced a bill to provide for the registry of voters in the Territories. Referred.

Sumner introduced a bill providing for the adjustment and satisfaction of claims of American citizens for spoliations committed by the French prior to 1810. [The bill of last session.] Referred.

Cragin introduced a bill authorizing the settlement of claims of officers, seamen and marines of the Navy, who served on the Pacific coast, for extra pay under the Naval Appropriation bills of August, 1852, and March, 1853. Referred.

Wilson offered a resolution instructing the Judiciary Committee to inquire whether the sale of unarmed and unmanned vessels by American citizens to belligerent Powers is now lawful, and whether the right to make such sales can be secured by legislation, and to report by bill or otherwise. Agreed to.

Sumner called up the resolution introduced by him on Thursday, declaring certain further guarantees required previous to the restoration of the rebel States. After considerable debate, Frelinghuysen said that three of the points in the resolutions were embraced in Wilson's supplementary bill which was being considered by the Judiciary Committee. He therefore moved to lay Sumner's resolution on the table. Carried—yeas, 36; nays, 10.

Senate adjourned.

In the House, several bills were introduced and referred; among them one to aid the construction of a railroad and telegraph from Lawrence, Kansas, to the boundary between the United States and Mexico, in the direction of Guaymas and California.

A resolution was introduced by Morrill, instructing the Judiciary Committee to inquire whether further legislation is necessary to give United States Courts jurisdiction over offences committed on other waters than the high seas. Adopted.

Kelley offered a resolution declaring that the proposition that the war debt of the country should be extinguished by the generation which created it is not founded on sound principles of national economy, and does not meet the approval of this House. The House refused to second the previous question—36 to 63—and the resolution was referred to the Committee of Ways and Means, when appointed.

Williams, of Penn., introduced a bill to regulate the practice and define the powers of the Supreme Court of the United States in certain cases arising under the Constitution and laws thereof.

The Speaker announced the following appointments:

Committee on Foreign Affairs—Banks, Orth, Cullom, Washburn of Wis., McCarthy, Blair, Myers, Robinson, Morgan.

Joint Committee on Reconstruction—Walker, Halsey, (to fill vacancies.)

Special Committee on Niagara Ship Canal—Van Horn of N. Y., Cook, Stevens, Washburn of Mass., Munger.

Wilson, of Iowa, from the Judiciary Committee, reported a bill to provide for calling Conventions to frame new Constitutions and organize governments for the rebel States. It is the bill introduced by Wilson in the Senate, last Thursday. The bill gave rise to considerable discussion, but finally passed by a vote of 117 to 27.

Donnelly, of Minn., offered a preamble and resolution giving encouragement and sympathy to the Irish revolutionists. Stevens objected. Pending a motion to suspend the rules, the House adjourned.

Washington, March 11.

The Union members of the Senate held a caucus this morning, and agreed not to fix a time for adjournment or recess until Congress shall have passed the proposed bill supplementary to the Military Government Act, and the President has time to consider it.

New York, March 11.

The weekly Bank statement shows an increase of loans of $1,975,022; decrease of specie, $710,199; increase in circulation, $115,378; increase of deposits, $2,264,613; increase of legal tenders, $1,509,945.

New York, March 12.

The Herald's Athlone, Ireland, correspondence, of the 12th ult., contains matter which goes to prove that the Fenian insurrection in that country forms a part of the revolutionary movement which is daily becoming more imminent in Great Britain, and in which the military organization acts according to a clearly defined and strictly ordered plan. Anticipating the last rising by many days, he states the very day on which it occurred, and sketches pretty freely coming operations, such as the destruction of telegraphs, railroads, and respecting the safety of the Atlantic cable on account of American interests. Of the affair at Chester, he states that the officers left their hiding places, (ammunition being collected in convenient magazines,) and hundreds of young men prepared to leave their homes and participate in the struggle. At the same time two thousand stalwart men in the workshops of Manchester, Liverpool, Stalebridge and Birmingham, threw down their tools and started for Chester, where was situated an antiquated castle, in which were stowed 33,000 stand of rifles and a very large quantity of ammunition, guarded by about forty infantry, men of very doubtful loyalty. The men arrived in Chester, and the Government was terribly frightened. Just at this moment, (James Stephens having been deposed,) an energetic officer having been appointed to direct the movement, arrived in England, and learning the condition of affairs immediately sent an officer to Chester with orders to prevent an attack on the place, where he arrived just in time. Other officers were sent throughout Ireland to stay the movement, and they were all successful, except in Kerry, which was not reached in time.

This correspondent further says: "I am prepared to state—and the result will show the correctness of the assertion—that in several counties of Ireland every able-bodied man—excepting some priests—all arms, police, policemen, landlords and other persons dependent upon Government are ready to join the insurgent forces, to tender them assistance. The principal officer in command of the Fenians was formerly an officer in the English service, and is [illegible] in the army. His Adjutant General was formerly in the French service, and is [illegible] Brigadier General of United States volunteers. There are others of like exacting and experience."

New York, March 12.

Efforts are making in this city by the Fenians to raise money enough to set afloat a fleet of Fenian privateers.

The Herald has City of Mexico dates to the 16th ultimo. The Liberals were bombarding Campeachy, in Yucatan, and had captured the artillery sent to the relief of the Imperialists there.

A Times special says the President declines to be held responsible for the language attributed to him in a conversation published in the New York Citizen some days since.

A Times special says two distinct parties are at work in every Southern State to organize conventions under the Reconstruction bill. Unconditional Union men say, however, that the disqualifications of the Reconstruction bill are not comprehensive enough to ensure the safety of the Union cause, as many now in office will be able to take the prescribed oaths and secure their re-election.

In Georgia there is a thorough organization of freedmen, and Governor Brown's party has joined forces with them. In South Carolina, Mississippi, Alabama, Florida, Louisiana, and Texas, the organizations are not so complete, but their ramifications are being rapidly extended throughout every county. On the other hand, the class who fill the offices at present are also organized.

New York, March 12.

A Herald special says the appointment of Southern district commanders still hangs fire. The President hesitates to appoint Sheridan. Some say he is too much of a soldier and too little of a politician for the place. Sheridan is largely commended and will probably be appointed.

Large numbers of Fenians are in Washington urging Congressmen to immediately recognize their rights as belligerents. They will appear before the Committee on Foreign Affairs as soon as that Committee is organized.

The Tribune's special says that at the executive session yesterday the nominations of Messrs. Cowan to Anstria, Tuckerman to Greece, Sullivan to Bogota, and Sanford to Brussels, were laid over. Cowan cannot be confirmed.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE.]

London, March 11.

The Princess Alexandria is reported very ill.

Artemus Ward directed in his will that all his property, after the death of his mother, shall go towards the erection of an asylum for printers.

A subsidy to the Canadian Railway will be proposed in Parliament this week.

All accounts from the scenes of disturbance in Ireland represent that matters have become quiet and that order reigns once more. There have been no fresh conflicts between the police and the Fenians, who are fleeing to the mountains and hiding from pursuit.

London, March 11.

Ireland is quiet. Government, however, is organizing its forces into six flying columns for the pursuit of the scattered bands of insurgents, and for active service in case the necessity should arise. The band of Fenians which recently encamped in Gatter mountains, has vanished, leaving no trace of its whereabouts. Government has offered a reward for the apprehension of Dunne, the Fenian leader.

Rt. Hon. S. H. Walpole, Secretary of State for the Home Department, announced in the House of Commons, this evening, that the news from Ireland was good. He also stated that the Government would not proclaim martial law in Ireland, but would try the Fenians by a special commission.

Florence, March 11.

The elections here for members of the Italian Parliament have generally resulted in favor of the Government, which carries a majority of the Electoral Diet.

Frankfort, March 11.

United States bonds are 77⅛.

WELLS, FARGO & CO. ON SNOW-SHOES.—The Virginia Enterprise says:

We give the following particulars of the state of the snow, etc., on the Placerville route, as obtained from the log-book of Messrs. Bennett and Crandall, of Wells, Fargo & Co.'s Express, in this city, and who have just returned from the Sierras: Left Virginia Friday, March 1, at 6 o'clock A. M.; arrived at Van Sickle's at 1½ o'clock P. M.; left after a short halt and at 5 o'clock in the evening had made but 1½ miles. The next day started at 6 in the morning, with seven men and eight horses, and arrived at Peter's at 1 o'clock, having made 3 miles; from there dug a track with shovels 1½ miles, which took till 5 in the evening, and reached Robb's; left Robb's at 6½ o'clock next morning and reached Friday's, 4 miles distant, at 9½ P. M.; left Friday's next morning, and met messengers on snow-shoes with letter mail from California just this side of Billy Mack's, and turned back; reached Virginia at 10 in the morning, traveling 10 miles on snow-shoes. This 10 miles of snow-shoe traveling is between Peters' and Friday's. From Billy Mack's it is all snow-shoe traveling to Yank's; thence can go in a cutter to the foot of the Summit, when there is again 9 miles of snow-shoe traveling to Strawberry. There was about ten feet of snow on the Summit. Another letter mail to be transported across the mountains on snow-shoes, left here this morning at 6 o'clock. Billy Crandall says the Norwegian snow-shoes are the only kind fit for the mountains. There is no hope of stages getting over the route for a week or ten days. In the meantime the letter express will be carried over the snow belt by messengers on snow-shoes.

INDIAN SCALPS.—The following remarks on the Indian Scalping resolutions in the Nevada Legislature, were made by a member of the Committee:

Mr. Mayhugh said when he signed the report the author had told him that it was a kind of a relief bill for the frontiersmen. That when the boys got hard up and wanted to go East, all that was necessary for them to raise the wind was to go out and kill half a dozen Indians, present the scalps, get the bounty of $50 for each, and start homeward. He expected to go East, and inasmuch as he was invariably broke he desired a similar opportunity afforded him to go home. If the amendment prevailed he would not like the resolutions so well.

The amendment was to strike out the $50 bounty clause, whereupon Mr. Dorsey said he was in favor of the resolutions, and in favor of the speedy extermination of every Indian on the frontier. He referred to the atrocities perpetrated by the Indians at the Truckee—where out of one hundred and sixty men but forty returned. He was in favor of the adoption of the resolutions, and if it be possible that the worse class of society could be induced to attempt to kill off Indians, for the simple purpose of gaining the bounty, and both classes should be killed off, then it would prove a benefit to the community.

Communicated.

Salt Lake City, March 12, 1867.

Editor Vedette:—The departure of one of our great men has cast a gloom over the minds and pockets of some other great ones. The great Drill Master, ditto Captain, ditto Colonel, ditto Body Guard, has cleared out with some thousands of dollars. He started out West with the renowned Twentieth Ward Wit, and will take stock coach to other climes returning the dollar to the Tithing Office to be kept until called for. We shall next hear of the Colonel in the Fenian Circles, and not in the private box with his charge, consisting of B. Y. and his last beauty. BOXER.

ANNEXATION OF UTAH.—The following detailed report of the action of the Assembly of Nevada, on the 2d inst., in relation to the annexation of Utah, we glean from the Virginia Enterprise:

The special order of the day, viz., the joint memorial asking Congress to annex the Territory of Utah to this State, was taken up.

Mr. Jones said that when this question was first entertained he supposed it was a joke, but he was now compelled to take it as serious and had been endeavoring to ascertain the motives which had induced a movement so fraught with importance to the commonwealth. But he had learned that the politician stopped at nothing if he had made up his mind to accomplish a certain object. The subject must be dealt with seriously, and had been dealt with in that manner by both the Legislature and the newspapers. He held that there was no reason under the sun why the Legislature should entertain the question as an emination from the people. He claimed that it came from Washington as a means for securing a seat in the next Congress. He calculated it was meant to pave the way for an aspirant to Congress, and for no other reason. Had the people desired action of this kind then would the Legislature have been warranted in producing this movement. The advocates of this measure said that the main object was to secure increased area and taxable property to the State, and thus save the credit of the State. He attributed the increase of the rate of interest an the bonds recently authorized to be issued, to the agitation of this subject. He regarded the proposition as a fallacy, and if indorsed by Congress, then the people of this State will have undertaken either the conversion of polygamy or its extinction from the land. He argued that the Government must be either for or against polygamy, and in either case a difficulty would be the result between the polygamists and Gentiles. He said that the Legislature made laughing stock of itself by the consideration of the movement, and he hoped that the whole matter would be rejected.

Mr. Potter accused Mr. Jones of making one of the "Gray Eagle" speeches. He denied that any clique or politician was particularly interested in favor of the question. He argued that if the Territory of Utah could be acquired, the value of taxable property in this State would be increased ten-fold, and claimed that by the time that Congress would annex Utah, and have it accepted by this State the votes of the Gentiles would have the majority of the votes in the new State. Was it not necessary that this State should have an increased area of agricultural lands, in order to supply her demands for sustenance? The resolution did not annex Utah, but did only request Congress to do so. He argued that the increase of population would not be composed solely of Mormons but that the fertile valleys of Utah contained many hundreds of people who would tend to swell the Union majorities of this State.

Mr. Munckton opposed the resolution, and argued that inasmuch as the extraordinary efforts of the General Government had failed it would be entirely futile for this State to undertake so mammoth a job as to convert or exterminate the Mormons.

Mr. Julien was opposed to the continuance of this debate. He simply wished to have the title amended so as to read: "To annex the State of Nevada to Utah," instead of "To annex the Territory of Utah to Nevada."

The resolution failed to pass by the following vote:

Ayes—Dorsey, Daña, Groves, Huse, Koneman, Lammon, Mayhugh, Roney, St. Clair, Stampley, Strother, Welch—12.

Noes—Brown, Bence, Cary, Folsom, Griffin, Julien, Jones, Jacobs, Lissak, Munden, Poor, Parmater, Parker, Prince, Potter, Tennant, Wingate, Mr. Speaker—18.

Mr. Potter gave notice of a motion to reconsider.

THE MAILS.—The Denver News of the 2d inst., contains the following in relation to the mails in that section of the country:

No coach has arrived on the Platte route since day before yesterday; not because they cannot run, but because there is no use of running when the railroad is so completely blocked up as it is below. At last accounts the up-coming train was yet one hundred miles east of the railroad terminus and they were shoveling out the track ahead of it. No mails are coming or going, nor is there likely to be for several days to come.

The Smoky Hill coach came in at an early hour this morning, with mail from the river to the 23d, but nothing from beyond there.

A western mail this afternoon brings us Salt Lake dates to the 24th; San Francisco to the 15th ult., and Sandwich Islands to the 19th of January.

THE Omaha Herald, of February 19th, has the following items:

Hon. J. M. Thayer, from Washington, D. C.; Major Lusbaugh, of Maryland; A. B. Crosby, of Boston; Ex-Governor McConness, of Chicago; J. C. Bruce, of Colorado; R. Johnston, of New York, are in town and stopping at the Herndon House.

The Board of Supervisors offer $10,000 reward for the apprehension of the thieves and recovery of $40,000, taken from the Treasury safe of Marion county, Iowa.

The track of the Council Bluffs & St. Joe Railroad was washed away last Sunday by Willow Slough. It will be repaired in a day or two.

A report is in circulation that Mackoy's distillery, near Council Bluffs, has suspended operations through the agency of the United States Collector.

FROM PAHRANAGAT.—The Reveille, of March 7th, says:

Mr. L. B. Pierce returned this morning from Pahranagat, for which point he left here with loads of merchandise on the 15th ult. He returned by way of Reveille, Hot Creek, and Northumberland districts, and reports but slight snow and good feed along the route. He was accompanied from Pahranagat to Reveille by Tom Hall, who had just returned from Las Vegas, about forty miles northwest of Callville, on the Colorado river, where he had left in good health and condition Adams and Martin, who were reported to have been killed by Indians. Hall lost several horses at Pahranagat, and he was in doubt whether they had strayed in the mountains or been driven off by the Indians.

PAID IN COIN.—The Enterprise, of the 15th, says: "A dispatch from Carson last evening informs us that the bill to pay all salaries in coin passed the Senate yesterday, and that during the evening a bill was debated in the House to collect all taxes in coin."

KANSAS is to take a vote on the female right of suffrage amendment to its Constitution, at the next general election; both Houses of the State Legislature having passed a bill to that effect.

...CHIEFTAIN.—The VEDETTE is in receipt of the first number of the Chieftain, a weekly paper published at Virginia City, Utah. Its editorial announcements indicate that it will be a lively sheet. Being the only paper in the mining camp and city of Montana and Idaho, (as it gives the telegraphic despatches of both sides of the Pacific papers,) makes it the most desirable medium for advertising in those four Territories.

...NIA MAILS.—In the entire absence of California exchanges, in consequence of the non-arrival of the mails, we are compelled to extract largely from the Nevada papers. How is it that our neighbors are in possession of California papers to the 26th of February, and our latest dates are only to the 20th? Yet, the difficulty on the road is the failure of Virginia City. There is a fault somewhere, and, while making allowance for storms, we certainly ought to expect the arrival of late papers. If they can reach Virginia City, why is it that we don't get them in Salt Lake? We do not wish to complain without some reason, and if we could receive a batch once a fortnight, we would be content to await the full opening of the mails.

...HALL'S LECTURE.—The lecture of Mr. Hall, at the 13th Ward School Room, last Monday evening, was well attended, and those present expressed themselves highly pleased. The lecturer gave a very interesting account of his travels in Japan; and the graphic manner in which he recounted the many varied scenes through which he had passed made it a very intellectual and entertaining lecture. Mr. Hall leaves for the East shortly, and will, no doubt, regale the inhabitants of the Mountain towns with a repetition of the feast. We wish him a bon voyage.

We clip from the Virginia Enterprise the following items:

Hugh Kennedy and John H. Kane were recently drowned at Vallejo, Cal. They were crossing the straits when the boat capsized, and before assistance could reach them they perished.

John A. Miller committed suicide at Sacramento February 25th, by taking strychnine. The cause is supposed to have been depression of spirits occasioned by losses at gambling.

Everett A. Mallon, a boy who has been held captive by the Apaches since 1865, when his parents and a large party of Americans and Germans were murdered near Tucson, was recently obtained by exchange by the military forces in Arizona. Information is wanted of his relatives. A brother of the boy was frozen to death while with the Indians.

In San Francisco, February 20th, while the boarders at the house of Blohm & Co., on Brannan street, were at dinner, they were startled by a bullet through the wall, which lodged in the hip of Blohm's partner. The wound is not serious, and it is not known who fired the bullet.

Sam. P. Bowman, an old Californian, died at Mazatlan on the 4th of February. He was a Colonel in the Mexican Liberal army at the time of his death.

The Avery-Bigler case will be re-heard before Judge Deady, he having decided that Judge Baldwin's judicial power as Judge of the United States Circuit Court of California expired with the expiration of the last term of that Court.

The Central Pacific Railroad Company, after careful comparison of the surveys made last summer, by its surveyors, has adopted the Humboldt river route, and has forwarded to Washington a report of its final action.

A man named Cutting was drowned in Tuolumne county, California, on the 21st of February. He attempted to cross Six Bit Gulch with a two-horse team, but was carried away by the current, and he and both horses drowned.

In Stockton, Cal., February 22, two lads were engaged in catching driftwood, when the foot bridge on which they stood gave way, precipitating them into the water. One of them was rescued by a Chinaman, but the other was drowned.

The jury in the $100,000 wine case in the United States District Court, at San Francisco, were discharged, being unable to agree. The evidence showed that the wine supposed undervalued, though labeled "Lafitte," "La Rose," and "Hantel-Brion," was really inferior claret, and that the genuine article of those and similar brands never or very seldom found their way to California.

The dead body of Charles McDuff, a peddler, was found under his wagon near Marysville. The cause was intemperance and exposure. He leaves a wife and two children.

It is reported that General Rosecrans has stopped work on the mine he recently purchased in Tuolumne county, Cal., and gone to Mexico.

Edward Cotterill was killed in Napa county, Cal., February 15, by being dragged by the stirrup of his horse.

J. Bursis was seriously injured in the spine while working in a tunnel at Grass Valley, Cal., recently.

James E. Hale, of Auburn, Cal., while out hunting recently, received a charge of quail shot in his face, causing painful but not serious injuries.

Dr. J. S. Downs, of Lakeport, Cal., was accidentally shot in the shoulder by Constable Musick, February 15.

O. B. Tuffell, foreman of the San Francisco Times office, is said to be a candidate for State Printer of California.

Major Beardsley, a gentleman about seventy-two years of age, fell on the sidewalk in Sacramento, February 22, and broke his left arm.

A paper called the Recorder has been started in Vallejo, Cal.

Louis Z. Hogan died suddenly at his residence in Sacramento, February 25.

W. D. Shirley, a pioneer of El Dorado, Cal., died of consumption, February 22.

IN WANT OF FUNDS.—We clip the following from the Virginia Enterprise, and judge that the members of the Legislature are in want of funds, but presume that the getting up of the alarm is one of Goodman's jokes:

A gentleman who arrived from Carson last evening says he has reason to believe that if the money raised by the State Treasurer in California, on the credit of the State, does not arrive before the adjournment of the Legislature, a joint committee of fifteen or twenty of the most desperate of the members will be selected to intercept the treasure train somewhere near the summit of the mountains and make a general division of the funds. Should any of them attempt to leave the Capital by the California road next Friday or Saturday, they should be arrested.

GOULD & CURRY ROAD OPENED.—The Virginia Enterprise, of the 5th, says:

Yesterday morning Mr. Welsh, of the Gould & Curry mine, at the head of a volunteer shovel brigade of 200 men, took the field against the snow, and cleared the way from the mine to the mill, a distance of nearly five miles. The raid was made at 8 o'clock in the morning, and by half-past 12 the road was opened in good shape. Several kegs of lager were distributed among the volunteers, and the battle with the snow became mere pastime. Nothing now prevents the transportation of ore from the mine to the mill, and soon again we shall hear the hoarse shriek of the huge old whistle and see stacks of bright silver bars from the reduction works of the company.

CLOSED.—We learn that the Silver Hill mill, which had been leased by General Wild for the reduction of the ore from the Diana mine, was closed yesterday, after a couple of weeks trial. We are informed further that the ore from that mine will be worked for the present at the Parrot mill at Big creek.—Reese River Reveille.
